GULAB YAMUN (GULÁB JÁMUN)

3,50€

Is a sweet of Indian cuisine and Pakistani cuisine, made with a dough, in which its main ingredients are khoya (condensed milk by evaporation) and maida (flour), and then fried in oil in the form of small balls. Afterwards, they are put in a syrup made with water, sugar, rose water, cardamom and colored with some strands of saffron that give it the characteristic red color.

KULFI (mango or pistachio)

3,50€

Is very popular dessert in the Indian Subcontinent based on an ice cream made with boiled milk. Kulfi can have different flavors as flavored with pistachio, malai, mango, cardamom (elaichi), apple peanut and/or saffron (kesar) in this case provides a very attractive orange color for the indues. Kulfi differs from Western ice creams in that it is much sweeter in flavor and has a creamier texture (because it has no air inside), giving it a more dense and milky appearance.
